Your Choice

We'll do our utmost to ensure your event is a total success in many ways. Our food is sourced locally, prepared with skill and passion and served in a way that supports the aims of the occasion.

Our procurement and recycling policies help to minimize our carbon footprint and managing all key aspects in house gives us control of quality. We aim to operate smoothly in the background, ensuring that you and your event remains centre-stage.

Happy
Hens

We always use poultry products that come solely from free-range chickens, including any mayonnaise or egg products that we may use for ingredients. We will only use suppliers who can provide total traceability so that to the best of our ability we can ensure that all our meat and poultry come from ethical farms.
